FICT

Uncertainty about the Future

Purikali – After 10 years of its foundation on June 25, 2011, the Forum of International Cooperation and Trade, with headquarter in Purikali, has its future obscure. There are speculations in Kaupelanese diplomatic circles about what could happen with the organisation that congregate countries around the globe in these hard times of pandemic. Three countries – Guelphia, Pannonia and Amargo – left FICT since last May, reducing the number of member states to 11. Furthermore, the last General Assembly to be held by videoconference was cancelled and the Games that would be played in Adzhatia this year risk of being cancelled as well. Kaupelanese ambassador to FICT

Alwisyu Tanwahu denies any crisis, but other diplomats, like former ambassador Aryanto Nuhusedim, state that the situation of the Forum is uncertain and requires a new “injection of enthusiasm” to survive. Opposition politicians to Ms Wisnumatan’s government, as Ms Etimadan Lao (Socialist Party), blame the government for not proposing effective actions to change the situation.

Among proposed actions there are some joint efforts:

- to fight Covid-19, especially to ensure 100% vaccination in the member states;
- to fight against climate changes;
- to recover the tourism in the member states, with cultural events, etc.

Covid-19

Vaccination Ongoing

Purikali – The vaccination campaign that started at a very low pace in January had a significant increase after April and now has reached more than 4,500,000 shots applied. According to the Ministry of Health and Sports, around 48% of the population received both doses of the vaccine. Due to this, the number of cases is decreasing since June. Expectance is to have all the population vaccinated with 2 doses until the end of the year. Fears, however, about the delta variant of the virus are leading the government to consider a third dose to be applied to all the people. Restrictions are still being imposed on passengers coming from abroad, beside social distance, masks and quarantine that are still being required in Kaupelan. The total number of cases surpassed 37,200 in August and deaths are around 670.
